Setting up and using the folio with your iPad Air

Setting up your folio

1. Open the folio and insert your iPad into the holder.

2. Push your iPad down:

Using your iPad

Opening the folio wakes your iPad:

Closing the folio puts your iPad into sleep mode:

Four viewing positions

Your folio's flexibility means that you can choose the ideal position for the task you want to carry out with your iPad.

Four viewing positions are available for viewing media, typing, making FaceTime video calls and browsing.

Media position

In the media position you can adjust your iPad to the angle you feel comfortable with.

Typing position

The typing position is ideal when using your iPad's iOS keyboard.

To put your folio in the typing position, hold your iPad (while still attached to the folio) with one hand, and with your other hand move the grip section of the protective cover behind your iPad.

FaceTime position

FaceTime position is ideal for FaceTime video calls with your friends.

The folio setup for FaceTime position is the same as for the typing position - just turn it over so that your iPad is standing up.

Browsing position

The browsing position lets you use your iPad easily with one hand.

To put your folio in the browsing position, fold it back along its spine.

Detaching your iPad

1. Bend back the protective shell on the camera hole side to release your iPad:

2. Remove your iPad from the shell:

Troubleshooting

My iPad won't stand in the media position.

- Make sure your iPad is inserted in the iPad holder correctly.

My iPad won't wake when I open the folio, and doesn't go into sleep mode when I close it.

- Make sure your iPad is inserted in the iPad holder the right way round.
