5. On-product FSC Logo

The FSC logo on the consumer-facing packaging (e.g., boxes, outer packaging) is the FSC chain-of-custody certification from the packaging supplier contracted to provide the packaging. Before displaying the FSC logo, Logitech conducts thorough due diligence to verify that all relevant suppliers of paper-based packaging components hold valid FSC chain-of-custody certifications. This ensures that the FSC logo reflects our suppliers' responsible forest resource management practices.

6. Supplier Requirements

Logitech requires the following from all suppliers of FSC-certified paper-based packaging components:

- FSC Chain-of-Custody Certification: Suppliers must hold valid FSC chain-of-custody certifications to use the FSC logo on packaging.
- Certification Documentation: Suppliers must provide evidence of their FSC certification status.
- Packaging Compliance: All materials must meet FSC standards, ensuring traceability from forest to final product.
- Ongoing Certification: Logitech actively monitors and ensures that suppliers maintain their certification and align with our sustainability goals.

7. Compliance Assurance

To ensure adherence to this policy, Logitech will:

- Monitor Certification: Actively monitor and verify that suppliers hold valid FSC chain-of-custody certifications.
- Audits and Documentation: Conduct audits and request certification documentation as part of our due diligence process.
- Non-Compliance Management: Suppliers found non-compliant with FSC certification requirements must rectify the issue or risk a reevaluation of their partnership with Logitech.

- Responsible Use of FSC Logo: Ensure the FSC logo is used accurately and responsibly in alignment with our sustainability commitments.
