Meetings today are short, frequent, spontaneous, and less structured. Meetings are a core communication pillar, however, the bulk of today's meetings are ineffective. Globally there are 30 to 40 million huddle rooms. The de facto mode for modern communications.

The video conferencing market is booming. Today, people expect to communicate naturally across locations and devices. 13.2% CAGR $11.44 billion 2020 2015
